If you cannot book all the introductory modules, prioritise Language Skills and Culture: Introduction

Timetable Considerations

- No more than 30 ECTS credits each semester
- Fewer ECTS credits if you are working as well
- Halve the ECTS credits for two-semester courses
- Check for compulsory modules in your Minor in the spring semester

<https://www.meme-arsenal.com/memes/312d41a493b700bb92c710d465a43573.jpg>

A Word on Modules

- The introductory modules all consist of a lecture, attended by everyone, and multiple seminar groups of which you must attend one.
- You must pass all the compulsory modules
 - If you fail compulsory modules twice, you are barred from studying English.
- At the English Department we offer recurring modules that include courses, e.g.
 - The module Literary Histories: Cultural Contexts is offered each semester, but the course is different each semester.
- You cannot successfully complete a module twice.

Different Types of Courses

Lectures

- Provide overview over a topic
- An instructor presents the content
- Large groups
- Usually has an exam at the end

Seminars

- Focus on individual texts (within a specific topic)
- Discussion based
- Small groups
- Students write a paper

The Course Catalogue

Contains much important information:

- What modules are offered each semester
- The module (and course) description
- Information on the booking period
- The name of instructors
- Information on rooms

The screenshot shows the UZH Course Catalogue interface. At the top, there's a navigation bar with 'UZH UZH Course Catalogue' and utility icons for 'Modules of My Study Programs', 'My Schedule', 'My Noted Items', 'Search', 'DE', and a user profile icon. Below the navigation, the page title is 'English Literature and Linguistics' for the 'Fall Semester 2025'. The program details indicate it's a Bachelor's (Major 120) program with 120 ECTS. The 'Description' tab is active, showing a general description of the program, the main language of instruction (English), and career prospects. Below this, the 'MODULES' section lists several courses: Introduction to English Literature and Linguistics, English Linguistics, English Literature, Language Skills and Culture, Transferable Skills, and Other Curricular Modules. The 'REQUIREMENTS' section lists the branch of studies (English Language and Literature) and regulations. The 'ORGANIZATION' section provides details on program structure, major/minor combinations, part-time studies, and lists the organization (English Department), academic advisor, program director, and program coordinator.

Student Portal

- Book modules
- Find information on your study progress
- Apply for cancellation of modules due to illness

<https://studentservices.uzh.ch/>

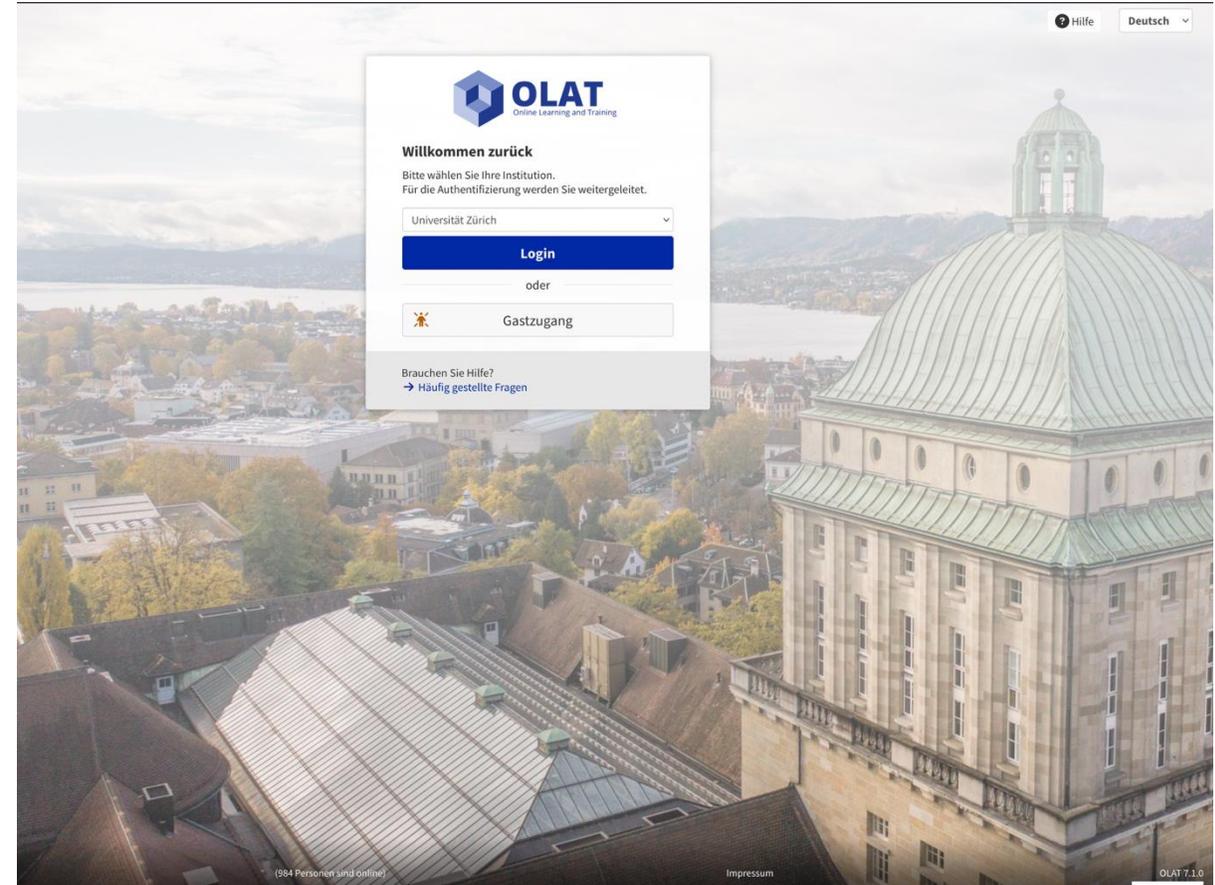

The screenshot displays the UZH Student Portal interface. At the top, the UZH logo is followed by a 'Home' dropdown menu and a search bar containing 'Apps' and a search icon. Below the header is a navigation menu with links for 'Planning your Studies', 'Study Progress', 'Application', 'Teaching Administration', 'Student Administration', 'Digital Platforms', and 'Services'. The main content area is organized into several sections:

- Find and Book Modules: This section contains four tiles: 'UZH Course Catalogue' (with a list icon), 'Search UZH Course Catalogue' (with a magnifying glass icon), 'Modules of My Study Programs' (with a document icon), and 'Noted Items & Module Booking' (with a calendar icon and the number '2' and the word 'Noted').
- Semester Plan and Timetable: This section contains two tiles: 'My Modules' (with a document icon) and 'My Schedule Courses' (with a calendar icon and the number '0' and the word 'Today').
- Study Planning Administration: This section contains two tiles: 'My Requests and Invoices' (with a document icon) and 'My Enrollment and Personal Data' (with a person icon).
- Semester Plan and Timetable: This section contains one tile: 'My Schedule Courses' (with a calendar icon and the number '0' and the word 'Today').

OLAT

- Find the course material.
- You are automatically added to the OLAT course if you booked the module.
- Joining an OLAT course does not count as booking the module – you have to book via the student portal.

Study Abroad

- Students have the chance to study abroad for one or two semesters during their Bachelor and/or Master studies.
- At BA level, students must have completed all three introductory modules before they can go abroad, but they can start the application process in the first year.
- All compulsory modules must be completed at the UZH
- The English Department offers some places that are reserved for students of English.
- The UZH Global Student Experience offers additional study abroad places for all students.
- Discuss your stay with the study abroad coordinator (N. Meyer, studyabroad@es.uzh.ch)
- More info at: <https://www.es.uzh.ch/en/studies/stay-abroad.html>

AI

- As students you are here to learn a set of skills. Outsourcing everything to gen AI will keep you from developing these skills. It will also make it impossible for you to judge whether AI output is actually good.
- The English Department has guidelines on the use of AI that you must follow: <https://www.es.uzh.ch/dam/jcr:6c2983aa-9a45-4a92-9268-98c313a78a46/Guidelines%20on%20ChatGPT%20and%20AI.pdf>.
- Your instructors will provide you with with more detailed guidelines for each course. Read them carefully.
- Unauthorized use of AI is academic misconduct and will be penalized accordingly.
- You will be introduced to helpful uses of gen AI.

Responsibilities

- As you switch from school to university you have more independence. That also means you have more responsibility.
- Your instructors and the study advisor are there to support you, but ultimately you are responsible for following deadlines, finding information, and asking for help when necessary.
- Read the documents you receive at the beginning of a course very carefully.

The ES Alumni Student Fund

UZH alumni english studies

EST.2016

The ES Alumni Student Fund supports academic and study-related projects by Bachelor and Master students of English Literature and/or Linguistics. Examples include:

- student research projects;
- small travel bursaries (e.g. for field work, or to attend an academic conference);
- course-related excursions

<https://www.es.uzh.ch/en/department/alumni/esalumnistudentfund.html>

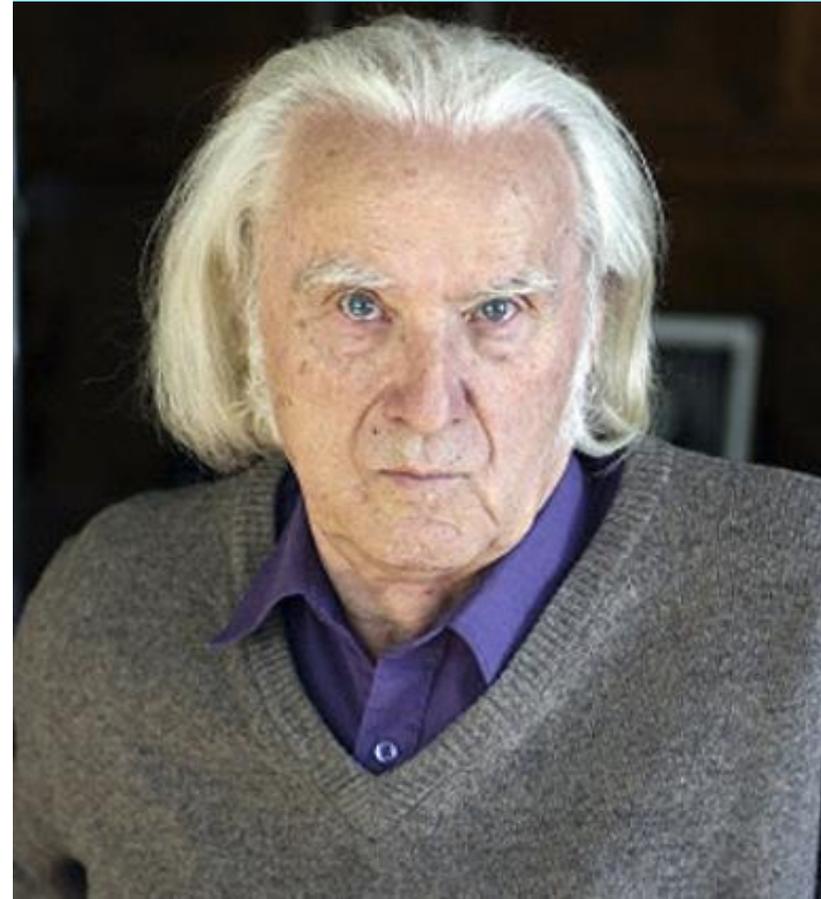

Fritz Senn Stipend for Joyce and Irish Studies

The Fritz Senn Stipend for Joyce and Irish Studies is open to Bachelor, Master, and PhD students enrolled at the University of Zurich who wish to pursue a project related to the works of James Joyce and/or Irish Studies. The stipend may be used:

- to cover research-related costs (e.g. for travel, books, or technical equipment)
- for student conferences and other relevant events (e.g. workshops, excursions, or reading groups)
- for supporting academic publications.

The maximum awarded does not usually exceed CHF 500.– per semester. While it is not possible to apply for recurring contributions, successful applicants may reapply in later semesters.
