

Cover Sheet Task #5

Roger Casement's ghost writer (Creative Writing Task)

Learning aims:	The students are able to compose a short text assuming the perspective of (the ghost of) Roger Casement. The students can write a text that demonstrates how they would intervene in the ongoing debate about how Roger Casement is being remembered.
Short description:	Imagining that the ghost of Roger Casement returns today to haunt us one last time, the students channel his voice and write a social media post for him. They have the option to attach a picture, too.
Prerequisites:	Ideally, this is the last task that students complete (after tasks #1 – #4). However, this task can also be done independently.
Required material:	Handout for students Please note that there is no separate teacher's version of the handout for this task.
Main type of student activity/output:	Writing
Key skills involved:	Language production
