

Exchange Students

Welcome to the UZH English Department!

The UZH English Department is located in two different buildings: PLH (secretary, three classrooms, offices, "Kafistübli"), at Plattenstrasse 47 ...

First Steps

This information sheet is intended for exchange and guest students. We hope this sheet will make it easier for you to find your way around the department, and to feel at home here at UZH.

Welcome Event

The Department organizes a small welcome event for exchange and guest students. The event usually takes place on Tuesday evening, in the first or second week of term. For more information, contact the department's study abroad coordinator, Dr. des. Martin Mühlheim: studyabroad@es.uzh.ch.

Student Groups

The English Department is not only a place to study. It also hosts the activities of three different student groups. For a complete overview of UZH student groups see:

→ www.uzh.ch/en/studies/studentlife.html

a) FAVA: Fachverein Anglistik

The FAVA is the English Department's official student organization. They represent the views of the students in the Institutsversammlung and also address issues concerning the entire university. In addition, the FAVA provides useful resources for students and organizes various social events, including Cake Days, Christmas Parties, and a Grill'n'Chill.

b) The Blueprint Masquerades

For more than twenty years, the English Department drama group has been staging English-language plays such as Oscar Wilde's The Importance of Being Earnest, William Shakespeare's The Tempest, or – most recently – Tom Stoppard's Arcadia. Aspiring actors, directors, and stage technicians: this is the the group for you!

c) The Zurich English Student

The Zurich English Student is an online newspaper written for the students by the students. It features film and book reviews, creative writing, reports from students who are currently studying abroad, opinion pieces (on current events both at and outside the English Department) – and much, much more.
